

THE IWA REPORT

Volume 31, Number 10 • July 2026

 Still to come are the number of times wrestlers/managers retained titles.*

Johnny B Says

The manager of Mr. Fantabulous (NWL) has returned to the game after a very lengthy absence, but tragically, his younger brother won't be joining him like last time, because James "Jamie" Lawson Hamilton recently passed away. He was born around the same time as the IWA, which means he was only 40 years old when he passed. He made those years count, and so leaves behind three children and a multitude of other family and friends who loved and miss him dearly. You can read his heartbreaking obituary at limestonechapel.com/obituaries/james-jamie-hamilton-2 and add a message of support to the tribute wall if you feel so inclined.

Jamie won a plaque for coaching his wrestler Daddy Rat all the way to the first League Championship in the Mad Dog League, and there's no telling how successful he would have been as an adult. His passing is a terrible loss for the whole IWA community; the fact that his family still remembers the joy it brought him decades later is a testament to how much passion he felt for it, and therefore, how much fun he would have added to the game for others, if only he'd been given more time. Our thoughts are with his loved ones as they struggle to come to terms with life without their brother, their son, their father, and their friend.

Rest in peace, Jamie.

On a much, much brighter note, our annual Specialty Championships have returned, and manager Kenneth Plasse suggested replacing the Iron Man and Parking Lot Brawl titles with Inferno and No Holds Barred, so there are a couple of fresh belts for your wrestlers to add to their resumes in addition to collecting some of the $2,700,000 in prize money. Check inside your envelope for the entry form, or grab the PDF from the Results page at PlayIWA.com, and send it to us with your matches and strategies for the upcoming Dog Days cycle, which begins on August 17th.

Finally, manager The Warrior JD guided three wrestlers from two regions and three different leagues to the National Championship. My records only date back to the February cycle of 1998, but since then, the title has been held by more than one wrestler on a mere 35 occasions. Of those, 27 involved a pair that was most often under contract to a single player and representing two different regions. The wrestlers hailed from the same league roughly half the time. There were four other cycles in which the championship had to be split three ways: manager Steven M. Shotliff accomplished the feat in the January 2006 cycle, Steven J. Deane saw his wrestlers share the gold in the Fall 2022 cycle, and Michael Drake enjoyed the feeling in the Spring 2023 cycle so much that he decided to experience it again in the July 2025 cycle! All the trios belonged to three different leagues, just like this time, and had usually won three different IWA-wide regionals heading into the National play-offs.

In the September 2019 tour, recently departed managers Timothy L. Clark and Robert J. Ratliff teamed up with Tim's son Joseph Glen Clark and made history by leading four wrestlers to the honors. They represented four leagues and three regions. Manager Tommy Christopher, a good friend they had made through the game, is the only player to have caused a five-way National split, which he pulled off with grapplers from two leagues and four regions in the Spring 2020 tour. Two cycles prior to that (March 2020), manager Gerald Robinson set the current record of six co-champions. They competed in six different leagues and shared three regionals among them. Talk about a nation divided!
